SHORT CV

Jan Hutterer looks back on a twenty-year professional career in corporate and capital market communications. He started as an investor relations manager in the renewable energy sector, where he aligned a small cap company with the requirements of the Prime Standard segment of the Frankfurt Stock Exchange. In the following years, he shifted his focus to the real estate market and coordinated several merger and acquisition projects. He also worked as an authorized signatory as well as Head of Corporate Communications/Investor Relations for listed real estate companies. Since 2017, Jan Hutterer has been advising capital market-oriented companies at KIRCHHOFF in the areas of investor & public relations as well as in the preparation of IPOs.

A graduate of Business Administration (University of Hamburg), he studied international management with a focus on finance and marketing at Fudan University Shanghai (MBA 2007). Jan Hutterer is a certified investor relations manager (CIRO), PR consultant (pzok) and head of the CIRO alumni network of the German Investor Relations Association (DIRK).

FOR ME, GOOD COMMUNICATION IS ...

... an often underestimated opportunity.
